Kidnap-Killer Execution Set In California

Governor Refuses Appeal By Mother Of College Student

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Barbaric a last-minute stay, Burton Abbott, 28, dies today in the San Quentin gas chamber for kidnaping a baby-sitter, stripping off her panties and brassiere, then hiding her bludgeoned body 230 miles away in a crude grave in wild, bear country.

Attorneys worked up to the last hour to save the convicted kidnap-killer of Stephanie Bryan, 14, formerly of Dartmouth, Mass.

Judge Walter L. Pope of the U. S. Court of Appeals made an overnight study of the case. He was petitioned by Atty. George T. Davis within minutes after Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman denied a 11th hour petition for a writ of habeas corpus in San Francisco late yesterday.

Gov. Goodwin Knight last night denied a last-minute request by Abbott's mother, Mrs. Elsie Abbott for a stay of execution.

The Abbott case developed into one of the strangest criminal cases on record in California. It began April 28, 1935, when the brunette vanished on her way home from Berkeley. Her decomposed body was unearthed from a shallow hillside grave in northern California 24 days later.

The key links in a chain built largely on circumstantial evidence came from the laboratory of a criminology professor at the University of California, where Abbott was a student.

Dr. Paul Kirk's microscope, studying sweepings from Abbott's car, identified a strand of Stephanie's hair and tiny fibers from her clothing. That was the prime evidence of abduction.

Airliner Stuck In Mud At Port Gets Hauled Out

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP)—After hours of logging and hauling, two wreckers pulled a Southeast Airlines DC3 out of the mud back onto the runway at the airport early today.

The two-engine plane stuck fast last night when it slowly rumbled into a shallow ditch at the end of the runway after landing. An air-line official said the brakes failed.

The 19 passengers aboard included Miss Tennessee of 1956, pretty Shelby Bailey of Gadsden. No one was hurt.

Foreign Policy 'Mistakes' Will Be Probed By Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said today a special Senate subcommittee will meet Monday to lay the ground-work for an inquiry into what he called "foreign policy mistakes" in the Middle East.

Fulbright is chairman of a six-member group authorized by the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees to set the stage for a study covering U. S. policies in the Middle East extending back to January, 1918.

March Storms Rake North Midwest Area

By The Associated Press

Blizzards whipped across northern Midwest areas today, isolating scores of communities, as other violent mid-March storms swept sections in the central part of the country.

Minnesota, Iowa, the Dakotas and Nebraska appeared the hardest hit by the late winter ice storms which erupted yesterday.

At least six deaths were attributed to the blizzard conditions, four in Minnesota and two in Iowa. Rain, sleet and snow spread across wide areas.

Strong northerly winds whipped the heavy snow into huge drifts and visibility was cut to zero in some places. Wind gusts up to 70 m.p.h. lashed areas in Iowa and Minnesota yesterday as the storm rolled across the upper Mississippi Valley.

Travel was curtailed and in many places halted. Telephone and power service was disrupted and schools were closed. At least a dozen small towns in northwest Iowa were isolated when communications were knocked out. Similar conditions were reported in other parts of the storm belt.

About 300 of the 500 persons attending a high school district basketball tournament at Rolfe, Iowa, were forced to spend the night in the school gymnasium because of snow-blocked and icy highways.

Snow measured up to 6 inches in sections of Minnesota and Iowa and blizzard conditions continued for parts of Minnesota and North Dakota.

As the storm headed into the upper Great Lakes region, cold air spread across most of the central part of the country.

Work Quotas Cause Strike

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Chrysler Corp. assembly plant in near-by Maywood was struck today in what a United Auto Workers spokesman said was a dispute over work quotas.

Some 1,200 swing shift workers walked off the job shortly after midnight. The plant employs more than 3,700.

A wildcat strike shut down production at the plant two days last week. The current strike, however, is authorized by Local 230 and has full support of the UAW international, a spokesman said.

Picket lines were set up immediately.

Coal Production Drop Estimated

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bituminous production in the week ended March 9 was about 9,655,000 tons, a drop from the 9,800,000 tons in the period ended March 2, the National Coal Assn. estimated today.

Production for the corresponding week in 1956 was 9,554,000 tons. March 9 was estimated at 94,581,000 tons against 101,122,000 tons in the same period of 1956.

Store Sales Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. department store sales declined 10 per cent last week below the corresponding period of 1956.

Historical Division, were called Monday's closed-door session.

They are to present a progress report on work now under way to supply the committee's request for a chronological, documented report on events contributing significantly to the crisis that led to the Israeli-British-French invasion of Egypt and the Suez Canal zone.

At Republican insistence, the inquiry was broadened to cover events which took place during the Truman administration.

Fulbright has attributed strained relations with the British and French to "mistakes in judgment" by Secretary of State Dulles and the Eisenhower administration.

Israel Government Takes No Move In Egypt Boss' Action

BULLETIN UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban warned Dag Hammarskjold today that any Egyptian attempt to return to power in the Gaza Strip could touch off renewed hostilities in the jittery Middle East.

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Foreign Minister Golda Meir is returning to the United States tonight to talk with the State Department about how seriously Israel regards the Gaza situation.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—An Egyptian major general today governed the Gaza Strip but U. N. troops were still the only military force in the disputed area.

There was no retaliation so far from Israel. Earlier, Premier David Ben-Gurion had served notice his government reserved its "freedom of action" if the Egyptians took back the Gaza Strip. He said he would use "all political and security steps" to prevent the Egyptians' return.

The Israelis pulled out of Gaza last Thursday on the assumption the U. N. Emergency Force would exercise both military and civil control of the Mediterranean coastal area alongside Israel's Negev Desert.

Accompanied By Aides The new Egyptian governor of Gaza, Maj. Gen. Hassan Abdel Latif, arrived late yesterday from Cairo with five military and civilian aides.

A UNEF platoon was on hand to receive him, and the Arabs in Gaza hailed him with shouts of "Long live Nasser, long live Arabism, welcome to the Egyptian administration."

U. N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche and Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UNEF commander, already were in Gaza when the Egyptian party arrived.

The United States, meanwhile, tried to appease Israel for the failure to keep Egypt out of Gaza. State Department press officer Lincoln White told newsmen talks would start soon on resumption of U. S. aid to the Jewish nation.

White declined to say whether resumption of aid to Egypt and Jordan also was being considered. American financial assistance for all three countries were halted when Israel attacked Egypt Oct. 29.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (INS)—Some 125 friends of former President Harry S. Truman, who expects to become a grandfather soon, gave him a "baby" shower, replete with gifts, verse and song.

Margaret, his only child, is married to Newsmen Clifton Daniel.

The guests at the Kansas City party yesterday used the tune of "My Blue Heaven" to render this parody on Mr. Truman's future evenings:

"When Margaret calls, 'No sit-ter tonight,'
'You'll hurry to your new grandchild.'
'You'll cancel all plans—'I will be a delight to hurry to your new grandchild.'"

Dog Catchers Disarmed In Texas

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—The City Commission yesterday ordered all except the head dog catcher here disarmed after a shooting incident involving two 14-year-old youths who said a dog-catcher tried to kill their pet.

Mayor George Clough, following a storm of protests from citizens rallying to the youths' defense, also suggested that dog catchers reconsider their methods of catching canines.

House Group Trims Funds Asked By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today slashed $516,993,300 from the $5,923,195,000 in new funds President Eisenhower requested for 18 miscellaneous agencies.

It was the biggest cut, money-wise, made by the committee on four bills it has sent to the House this year. The funds are for the fiscal year starting July 1.

If the House upholds the committee next week, it will have cut 669 million dollars from presidential requests totaling about $10,300,000,000 to date. On the three previous bills, none of which has passed the Senate, the House has followed its committee's recommendations without change.

Major slashes imposed by the committee in the independent offices appropriation bill were $705,657,700 from Veterans Administration funds, $71,700,000 from the Civil Defense Administration, and $155,239,400 from the General Services Administration.

Reductions recommended in VA allotments included $4,068,000 in operating expenses, $1,293,200 in operating expenses, $1,293,200 in medical administration and miscellaneous funds, 7 1/2 millions in hospital construction and replacement programs, 149 1/2 millions in compensation and pension funds, and $4,473,000 in readjustment benefits. Congress frequently has cut these funds in past years only to restore them subsequently in supplemental bills.

AEC Reports Reactor Blast

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP)—The AEC said today the core of a test atomic power reactor exploded during testing on Feb. 12. No one was injured, but the power unit was destroyed.

The reactor core—in essence a stripped-down model of a power reactor—was, because of its "naked" nature, whimsically dubbed "the godiva."

It consisted of a sphere of uranium 235 about 6 1/2 inches in diameter suspended on a tripod.

The AEC announcement said no damage was done to the building "and radiation contamination has been removed by standard cleaning methods."

St. Pat Given Orange 'Coat'

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Sure and St. Patrick himself won't be wearing the green on his day, Sunday.

Someone, apparently an Orangeman from Northern Ireland, dumped orange paint over St. Patrick's statue in front of St. Michael's Hospital yesterday.

Said Capt. Charles Kelly of the police force: "A catastrophe."

Senate Action Seen Soon On Tax Extension

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House after listening to denunciations of high taxes and big government spending—has voted for a year's extension of present corporation and estate tax rates.

House passage of the bill yesterday sent it to the Senate, where action is expected before April 1.

On that date, corporation and estate (sales) tax rates are scheduled to drop automatically. This would cut Treasury revenues about three billion dollars and endanger prospects for a budget surplus.

The bill passed by the House on a voice vote would extend until April 1, 1958, the present 52 per cent levy on corporation profits. It also would continue for the same span the present excise rates on liquor, cigarettes, passenger automobiles and auto parts and accessories.

Without the new legislation, the corporation tax rate would fall to 47 per cent and excise levels would drop to those in effect before the Korean War.

Before voting, the House heard Rep. Colmer (D-Miss.) mount an attack on government "spending and taxing." Colmer appealed for slashes in spending for defense and foreign aid. And he opposed big outlays for federal aid to education.

Rep. Curtis (R-Mo.) said, "It is possible to have a tax rate so high that there is less tax take-and in my opinion that is exactly what is happening."

Tot Stolen, Drowned By Baby Sitter

DETROIT (AP)—Three-year-old Patricia Tiernan, who was kidnapped from her home in Pontiac yesterday, was found drowned last night in a bathtub at a small hotel in Detroit.

Police said they found the body after following directions given by a teen-age baby sitter who was picked up for loitering near the Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

State police in Jackson arrested Madeline Alford, 18, of Pontiac, after a prison guard reported he saw her run out of the prison lobby and hide under a car in the parking lot.

The troopers quoted her as saying, "I always had an urge to kill people." Then, they said, she killed the room number of a hotel in Detroit where Patricia's body could be found.

Trainmen Boost Asked By Board

WASHINGTON (AP)—An emergency presidential board today recommended an aggregate wage increase of 2 1/2 cents an hour over the next three years for about 160,000 members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. The men are employees of 173 Class I railroads.

In a report made public by the White House the board also recommended semiannual cost of living increases tied to the government's consumer price index.

Brewster Asserts No Efforts Made For 'Law Control'

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Investigating Committee today "requested" Dave Beck, international president of the Teamsters' Union, to furnish all his financial records for the years 1949 through 1955.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frank W. Brewster, West Coast teamsters boss, swore today his union never plotted to engage in racketeering or to control law enforcement in Portland, Ore.

Brewster, chairman of the Western conference of Teamsters, testified at the Senate Rackets Committee's hearings on charges that he and some other teamster bigwigs conspired to take over the Portland underworld.

"As to the alleged conspiracy on the part of the Teamsters or any official or employee thereof to engage in any racket in Portland in connivance with any public official of that city, I will make the following categorical statements under oath:

"1. I know of no conspiracy or plan or effort on the part of the Teamsters or any official or employee thereof to engage in any racket in the city of Portland or elsewhere in collaboration with any public official or anyone else.

"2. I know of no conspiracy or plan or effort on the part of the Teamsters or any official or employee thereof to gain control of the law enforcement agencies of the City of Portland, the State of Oregon, or of any official of said city or state. Our sole interest there is the same as in every state, that is, to elect officials who are not anti-labor and who will oppose so-called right-to-work laws.

"3. I have never authorized Elkins, Maloney or McLaughlin, directly or indirectly to represent the Teamsters or myself in Portland or anywhere else on any matter.

"4. I have never authorized anyone directly or indirectly, to engage in any racket on behalf of the Teamsters or myself in Portland or anywhere else.

In Brewster's statement, the men he named are: Big Jim Elkins, Portland racketeer who accused Brewster of conspiring with Seattle racketeers Tom Maloney and Joe McLaughlin to "muscle in" on Portland rackets in which Elkins once was the kingpin.

Brewster also said he knows of no conspiracy or plan, as alleged by Howard Morgan, former Democratic state chairman of Oregon, to plant a man "acceptable" to the Teamsters on the Oregon Liquor Control Commission.

Morgan had testified that he was told that Brewster and Dave (Continued on Page 2; Col. 5)

Indonesia Rebel Leaders Meet As Premier Quits

JAKARTA—Rebel military leaders from throughout Indonesia met today in Jakarta in the backslapping-handshaking atmosphere of a college reunion.

President Sukarno in a tense broadcast last night said the revolt across the wide-spread island republic had brought the government to the point of life and death.

Today the leaders of that revolt government had demanded since January—and officially turned the in the capital on their first meeting—local governments over to the king since they defied Premier Ali Sastroamidjojo.

The Premier and his Cabinet quitted yesterday, finally, bowing to demands that began in December and spread throughout the island. Lt. Col. Ventje Sumual of east Indonesia. The rebels pledged their allegiance to Sukarno—the hero of Sumatra and Lt. Col. Hasan Basri Indonesia's revolution against the Dutch—but demanded a new government which would let them. Col. Achmad Husein, leader of the keep most of the proceeds from central Sumatra revolt, was re- their exports to develop their own islands.

The crisis was worsened by Sukarno's plan to set up an all-powerful "advisory" council headed by himself and including the Communists. Leaders in the out-lying islands and the powerful army chief of staff, Maj. Gen. A. H. Nasution, were un- inously opposed to a government including the Reds.

Ruling Asked On Pinballs 'Free Play'

SALISBURY—The Sheriff Jesse Pollitt has said he will ask an attorney general's ruling on whether pinball machines which award free plays are illegal.

The sheriff said a Circuit Court decision in 1953 ruled that free plays were a "thing of value" and therefore illegal. "If a free game is a thing of value in 1953 it is still a thing of value in 1957 when there has been no change in the law in the meantime," he said yesterday.

Pollitt and several deputies seized nine pinball machines last week. He said the grounds for the seizure was the free plays the machines awarded.

But State's Atty. Hamilton Fox said the law does not label pinball machines as illegal.

The county grand jury has asked the county's legislative delegation to consider possible revision of the gambling laws as they concern pinball machines.

The President sailed from Norfolk, Va. aboard the Navy guided missile cruiser Canberra last night on a leisurely six-day voyage to Bermuda. He will arrive there Wednesday afternoon for talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

He decided on the sea trip in a move to shake a stubborn cough, a head cold and an ear ailment which have been bothering him for some time.

Solons Study Measures On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON—A Senate Judiciary subcommittee was called into closed session today to act on civil rights measures.

The chairman, Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.), the chairman, said he was hopeful the subcommittee could agree on legislation to recommend to the full Judiciary Committee.

A House Judiciary subcommittee already has approved a bill patterned after administration recommendations. These call for creation of a bipartisan commission to study complaints of civil rights violations, for establishment of a civil rights division in the Justice Department, and for new powers for the attorney general to seek injunctions to enforce voting and other civil rights.

The full House Judiciary Committee yesterday approved several amendments, then quit work on the bill for the weekend.

Both factions in the House committee—Northern and Western proponents of a civil rights bill and Southern opponents—announced an agreement to stay in session Monday until a bill is completed and voted on.

From the Judiciary Committee, which is considered certain to approve the measure, it goes to the House Rules Committee. There, Southerners may stage another delaying action, but the Democratic leadership's reported goal of a House vote early in April appeared possible.

Hundreds Idle In Work Week Mill Dispute

GARY, Ind.—The U. S. Steel Co. proceeded with a partial shutdown of its huge Gary works today because of the idling of 3,000 men in a dispute over a split work week.

A spokesman for United Steelworkers said the men were sent home after protesting the layoff of three workers. A company spokesman said they walked out. The company spokesman said inactivity in the Merchants Division, where 3,000 are employed, would cause a layoff of about 8,000 more workers.

The split work week is five days which are not consecutive. Oris Thomas, chairman of the Grievance committee of the U.S.W. Local 1014, said plant operations have been below the level at which the company-unions contract permits the use of the split week.

Thomas said U. S. Steel introduced the split week about two weeks ago. He said it deprives about 2 per cent of the plant's 20,000 workers of overtime and incentive performance possibilities, because Saturday is a relatively slow day.

Thomas said union members voted yesterday to stay off the job under present conditions.

Judges Rule Bail Denial In Capital Crime Legal

ANNAPOLIS—A grand jury indictment for a capital offense creates "sufficient presumption of guilt to warrant the denial of bail," the Court of Appeals has ruled.

The high court made the decision yesterday in upholding a Prince Georges County Circuit Court order denying bail to Francis A. Danny Fischer of Temple Hills, Md.

The appeals court said a "capital" offense was involved because Fischer could be found guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced to death. The 48-year-old restaurateur is accused of shooting his former business partner, Wilfred A. Grove, 44, of Hillcrest Heights.

Fischer was charged with murder last Aug. 14 and was released on $10,000 bail pending action by the grand jury. He was indicted Oct. 15 and pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity and three days later at a habeas corpus hearing he was ordered held without bail.

The high court's opinion said the "burden of proof to overcome that presumption (of guilt) rested upon the accused," he offered no evidence directly to offset it.

Grove was critically wounded in Silver Spring Aug. 8. Fischer's trial is set for March 27. He has been undergoing mental tests.

GLs In Reich Armed With Atom Bombs

BONN, Germany—The Defense Ministry today confirmed that American forces in West Germany are armed with atomic weapons.

A spokesman for the West German ministry said the A-weapons include projectiles, rockets and bombs.

The British air marshal, Earl of Bandon, told reporters yesterday that the American Air Force in south Germany "has had atom bombs and atom bomb carriers for some time."

This appeared to be the first public admission by an Allied leader that A-weapons were in Germany.

The Earl of Bandon added that his own NATO command, the British-Belgian-Dutch 2nd Allied Tactical Air Force, now had the capacity to deliver atomic weapons but did not yet possess any. He refused to say when atomic weapons would be supplied for his Canberra jet bombers.

The German Defense Ministry spokesman told a news conference that the West German government had long been aware that the American forces had atomic weapons on German soil. He declined to give any indication where the A-weapons were stored and added he did not believe that there were any hydrogen bombs in Germany.

Beck, Transmiers Union president, would be "the source" of a $10,000 campaign fund contribution to Democratic Gov. Robert D. Holmes if Holmes would promise to make such an appointment. Morgan said Holmes refused.

Morgan's version was disputed by Manton Spear with whom Morgan said he had talked. Spear, who had been associated in a beer distributing business with Dave Beck Jr., specifically denied that he had mentioned Beck or Brewster.

Brewster was flanked on the witness stand by two Washington attorneys, Jerry N. Griffin and John K. Pickens.

At Brewster's request, Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) ordered that no pictures be taken of Brewster during his testimony.

It was the second time in two months that Brewster had faced McClellan at a Senate inquiry. On the earlier occasion, Brewster declined to answer questions from the Senate investigating subcommittee, also headed by McClellan.

That subcommittee's parent is the Senate Government Operations Committee. Brewster argued that union affairs were not related to government operations and contended the subcommittee had no authority to question him. He was cited for contempt of Congress.

Before Brewster began his testimony, Warren Magee, attorney for Oregon teamsters boss Clyde Crosby, handed the committee what Magee termed documentary evidence that Elkins was "directly in the prostitution racket" in Portland. Elkins has denied under oath that he had anything to do with prostitution although admitting gambling operations.

Brewster called all the allegations against him and other teamsters officials "fantastic and ridiculous" and said: "I have never even heard or thought of these incredible things" alleged in the hearings.

"I think my reputation for honesty and fair dealing is well known in the Western Conference," Brewster said.

Cites Need Of Guarantees

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told the House of Commons any settlement in the Middle East must include guarantees against Israel's extermination as well as guarantees for the Arabs against Israel's territorial expansion. He declared that the Gaza Strip should be made a U. N. responsibility. Clearly referring to both the United States and United Nations, he said:

"Those who brought pressure to bear upon us and France and Israel should have to face up to the facts of the situation, and undertake a proper share for securing a solution."

Aneurin Bevan, chief foreign affairs spokesman for the Laborites, told Commons that both Laborites and Conservatives expect the United Nations to "see to it that Israel's act of courageous faith (in pulling out of the Gaza and Aqaba areas) will not go unrequited."

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever—Morris.

Place Of Profits

SENATOR Humphrey of Minnesota says the Eisenhower administration wants to blame organized labor's wage demands for higher living costs. He thinks the nation's big corporations should bear the responsibility because of their "enormous profits." Actually, most of the public warnings against inflation have urged that business and labor both exercise great restraint, the one in pushing prices higher and the other in pressing wage demands. What is more interesting about Humphrey's statement is his plain implication that there is something improper about big profits. This is a notion that pops up persistently. Some labor leaders and their economists are particularly fond of it. But this shows a sad misunderstanding of the function of profits in the economy. They are not something to be sliced off to the stockholders as if the latter were the corporation's sole responsibility.

THAT HAS IN FACT been done, but usually with dire results for the business. There is one recent glaring example. The outcome? The outfit is out of business and thousands have lost their jobs. Corporations are not static organizations which can afford to stand still as the economy and the nation change. They must adapt and they must grow. To do this they need money. Only so much can be borrowed. The rest must come from earnings. Keeping a good business going doesn't consist of sitting at a desk and counting the profits. Business managers are constantly betting on how big the market for their lines will be next year or five years hence, on what new products will sell and what old ones will drop out.

THEY HAVE TO BACK their bets with real chips. The bigger the country gets, the bigger the corporations, the bigger their profits, and the bigger the bets they must make on the expanding future. To declare, as Humphrey did, that corporations are making enormous profits is to state not only the obvious but the necessary. If they did not, they could not find the means to keep pace with a changing America. Many business managers grow weary and die prematurely. There's little evidence this reflects any fear that corporation profits are "ill-gotten" gains. What strains them is the endless worry involved in spending huge sums wisely and responsibly, in other words, in making good bets on the future. Profits are the economy's insurance policy against maladjustment and failure. They are no idle plaything but a vital reservoir to be tapped with great care, for the sake of both a business enterprise and the country it helps to sustain.

The Enemy

UNTIL MORE evidence becomes available, one can neither dispute nor accept the recent report, based on seemingly good authority, that Stalin was on the verge of unleashing war when he was stricken with the cerebral hemorrhage which led to his death. However, it can be said that unless Stalin had gone far in senility or madness, the story does not seem to be fully in keeping with his political personality insofar as it is known in the West. Trotsky, who had reason to know, once said that for Stalin the shortest distance between two points was violence. However, Stalin was both a moral and a political coward, and it was not his custom to take big risks. He usually waited until he had considerable assurance of success before he struck. It does not seem in keeping with what is known about Stalin to visualize him unleashing a world war when he did not have overwhelming superiority. However, there are strange things in this world, and the recent story could be true. But true or false, Stalin is no more. Though he can well be studied from the standpoint of history and in order that we may understand more of the links between past and present in Russian policy and history, dead Stalin is no longer the main enemy. The main enemy is the group of his old accomplices who are the living leaders of Russia. Morally, they are no better than Stalin. They are capable of committing as many crimes against humanity as was their old boss, Joseph Stalin. They are the ones to watch now.

WASHINGTON—From the recent Gore Senate report on the 1956 Presidential and Congressional elections, we learned not only that political campaign financing is big business. We also learned that one of the biggest problems in regulating campaign contributions and expenditures concerns hidden contributions and expenditures. Searching these out involves labor unions and corporations. To bring into the open all campaign contributions and expenditures from these two sources, so the public may be informed, obviously is going to require clarification of existing statutes by the courts and amendments to existing law by Congress.

So far as labor unions are concerned, it would appear that the way was opened this week for clarification by a Supreme Court decision which, by a split 5-3 vote, sent back to the Federal courts for trial a case brought by the Justice Department against the United Automobile Workers. This big labor union paid for television campaign speeches by Senator Pat McNamara out of the union treasury instead of out of specific contributions for campaign purposes. INDICTMENT against the UAW was thrown out by Federal Judge Frank A. Picard in Detroit. He held the UAW had not violated the Corrupt Practices Act which forbids campaign contributions by both labor unions and corporations. The Supreme Court decision reinstates the original indictment and requires a trial. Undoubtedly the case eventually will get back to the Supreme Court again. Thus far no case has been

Women Want President's Office Moved

WASHINGTON—If there were such a thing as an Association of First Ladies, their No. 1 project would be support of the new recommendation that the business offices of the White House be yanked out and put in another building off Executive Mansion grounds. One of Mrs. Eisenhower's pet peeves has been the existence of her husband's business office under practically the same roof as their living quarters. Mrs. Truman was to be annoyed by this, too. Both women believe this creates an added strain on the president. All women have a kind of mother-hen instinct and like to feel that their abode is their responsibility. But with a bustling, crowded, office building jammed into one wing of their home as it is in the White House, First Ladies tend to be frustrated homemakers. The present proposal for taking the offices out from the White House proper would move them

NEW YORK—About a month ago, on the basis of information received, this column did a piece about an entomologist named J. E. Hunsberger, who had stated before conventions and similar groups that the termites eat wood theory was cart-before-the-horse and that actually wood damage was done by fungi which produced enzymes which in turn caused the wood to become humus and that termites eat humus.

It was stated for him, by responsible persons, that he had $5,000 in escrow for anyone who could prove otherwise. THE PIECE was done with care for the large and established termite control and eradication services of this country. It was stated that these claims in no way came from me, since they concerned matters I knew nothing whatsoever about. The suggestion was made that if protest rose it was to be directed at Hunsberger, and his correct address was given. Nonetheless, there has been protest and it has come to me through several newspapers across the country. As might have been expected, termite scientists are furious.

I AM NO scientist. I am in no more position to support Hunsberger than I am to support the termite outfits. Nor am I in any more position to skin Hunsberger alive than I am to throw cold water on termite control services.

I have seen wood, notably in Southern California, which was termite infested. Whether it was termite infested as a result of enzymic action is beyond me. But most of the protests coming in have been of a scientific rather than a cholerical nature, and it seems only the part of fair play and honest reporting to note this.

Certainly, the termite control people have an equal right to equal space. And some of them pose questions which Hunsberger, if he is reliable, should, for his own sake, answer.

DR. ROY J. PENCE, for example, a scientist at the University of California, Los Angeles, has recently completed a series of tests which prove conclusively (UCLA being an honest institution with only pure science and no commercialism to motivate it) that termites do indeed eat sound wood and he has photographic evidence to support him. Also, most reputable termite control agencies apply fungus

Puzzle Of A Dirty Shirt

WASHINGTON—It is a pleasure to announce that the Department of Agriculture has perfected a cotton shirt that dries quickly and without wrinkles. There's only one trouble. The longer you leave it in the washing machine, the dirtier it gets.

This phenomenon of a shirt growing grimmer with every swish through the suds would discourage a lesser man than Dr. G. E. Hilbert of the Agriculture Research Service. He and his associates now are working to perfect a shirt that gets clean in the wash. They have hopes.

THE EXPERTS in cotton textiles in the Federal laboratories long have been concerned over synthetics like nylon, dacron and orlon taking so much of the shirt business away from the cotton farmers. They've been working hard on a treatment for cotton to give it the characteristics of the man-made fabrics.

They produced not only a fabric that could be washed, dried and worn immediately, but one that took a crease and retained it. Dr. Hilbert said this crease business was particularly good for cotton pants.

He told the House Appropriations Committee that all a fellow had to do was dunk his shirt and/or pants into a newly devised resin emulsion and thereafter for at least a dozen washings it repels wrinkles and retains the crease.

BUT WHEN you dirty a shirt heart and ileitis specialists have had their day of glory. The doctors around here are getting awfully cozy about discussing in public Ike's various troubles, however, for fear of getting the White House angry.

Every medic's comment on Ike's cough is prefaced by the words, "I'll deny I said it if the question ever comes up, but this is the way I diagnose the President's cough."

And of course there are as many diagnoses as the number of times he coughs each day.

OTHER NIGHT at a party a congressman from New York City was bragging to a guest that among Gotham cops there are 22 languages spoken. "That's nothing, begging your pardon sir," interjected Bill Heberle, the bartender. "Among bartenders in Washington we speak 25 languages, 14 Chinese dialects, understand Indian sign language and can interpret about 30 different types of eye signals."

Bill is master of about half these methods of communication himself. When a party is thrown at the President's Guest House (or Blair House) Bill is always first choice to run the bar. When a party gets dull, he's always in with a quick line to brighten it up.

NOW IT'S THE doctors who are experts on coughs who are the No. 1 party attractions. Everybody's asking them the real inside on the cause of Ike's unshakable hack.

This is only fair because the

NEW YORK—Bob MICHUM has an unusual ambition for an actor. He doesn't want to play Hamlet. He doesn't yearn to be a director or a producer. He doesn't pine to have the world of television at his feet. He simply wants to be the laziest man on earth—if you take what he says seriously, which might be a mistake. "I just hang around the house until I go broke," he said, "and then I go to work."

"That's a dismal thought so early in the morning. It was 11:30 a. m. Life always looks better in the cool of the evening."

"The role I'd really like to play is a tax-exempt one in which I merely phoned the studio—and didn't have to show up on the set at all."

HE IS RESTING up after completing a 20th Century-Fox film, "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison," in which he plays a Marine stranded behind Japanese lines with a nun—Deborah Kerr.

Despite his pretense of laziness, MICHUM has played in more than a hundred pictures in 15 years, including eight Hopalong Cassidy epics.

Before that he had been an amateur hobo, a professional fighter, a writer, and an aircraft factory worker.

He said the aircraft job left him with an allergy to metal, and the Hopalong Cassidy films an allergy to horses.

MICHUM, who has been called "the unspoiled savage" and who has never let Hollywood go either to his head or his stomach, says this is why he went into the movies:

"I don't like people telling me, 'Do this or else.' This is the only business I've found where you can get by with my attitude. You can remain an individual in the movies—but the price sometimes seems high."

George Dixon
Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—After nearly a month of intensive investigation, during which four U. S. Senators were under suspicion, the masked dance thief who stole the Mardi Gras dance with Mrs. Richard M. Nixon has finally been unmasked.

The miscreant is almost the last one to be suspected. He stands revealed as Joseph E. Guidry, formerly of New Orleans, but now a civil engineer with the Interior Department's Bureau of Reclamation. Here at last is the solution to Washington's most intriguing mystery.

The 47-year-old Guidry, a graduate of Tulane, tried to get a dance with Pat Nixon at the Louisiana State Society ball four years ago. He maneuvered through the cordon of secret service agents and said to the second lady:

"Would you care to dance?" "She would not!" snapped an S.S. man—and that ended that.

But the ambition remained with Guidry. On successive years he tried again, but could not get past the bodyguards.

THIS YEAR, however, he became a member of the Masked Krewe. The program called for all the maskers to enlist female partners for the big dance, but Senator Russell B. Long, of Louisiana, who directed the 1957 ball, stipulated that he—and he alone—would dance with the lovely wife of the Vice President.

But just as the Solon was about to present himself to the lady, another masked man muscled in ahead of him and carried her off.

Following the ball, Senator Long launched a full-scale effort to uncover the culprit. His first suspects were U. S. Senators Barry Goldwater, of Arizona; Hubert Humphrey, of Minnesota, and Frank Church, of Idaho, who were in the Krewe.

The investigation was complicated from the start by a spate of "confessions." Oddly, many men wished to be considered guilty. Within a fortnight, 63 of the 70 members of the Krewe "confessed."

But Guidry was one of the five who refused to crack. However, his guilt has been established beyond a reasonable doubt. As a result he is now the most envied dance heister in all the annals of crime.

A BUS OF THE Suburban Transit Company came down Massachusetts Avenue, ("Embassy Row") in a driving rain the other morning. It did not stop quickly enough for a traffic pileup, and slid into the rear of a low-priced car.

The driver got out, and so did the bus operator. They stood in the downpour and examined the rear end of the auto. There didn't seem to be much damage, but the car owner, whose bare head was now dripping, asked the bus driver to step into his car for a moment and talk it over.

The conversation lasted little more than a minute. Then the bus driver returned to his vehicle and resumed the interrupted journey. But one of the passengers, Edward F. Woods, of the St. Louis Post Dispatch, had made an interesting observation. He asked the bus operator if he had learned the identity of the car owner.

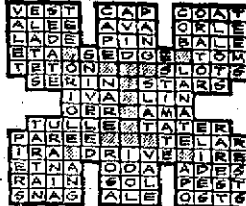

"Yeh," said the bus driver. "He said to me: 'I'm gonna hand down a decision right now. I ain't gonna sue. These things happen all the time.' And he said that just in case the matter ever came up, he would put it in writing. He wrote on this piece of paper that it wasn't my fault. Why—do you know him?"

"Yeh," replied Mr. Woods, laconically. "He's the new Supreme Court fella—Justice William Brennan."

Jack Palance Perceptive In 'Last Tycoon'

F. Scott Fitzgerald's
Last Novel Presented
On "Playhouse 90"

By JACK O'BRIAN
(Distributed by International News Service)

NEW YORK—(INS)—Playhouse
90's "The Last Tycoon," adapted
(by Don Mankiewicz) from F.
Scott Fitzgerald's final novel, was a fine, fascinating TV drama . . .
It ended indecisively but frankly where the jazz age Boswell's novel terminated at Fitzgerald's death . . .

Casting Jack Palance in the role of the Hollywood genius had seemed to be casting directly against type, inasmuch as the novel was a free reflection of the career of the late Irving Thalberg, Hollywood's definitive production genius in the movies' golden era . . .

But Palance managed an amazing sensitivity for someone seen so frequently in brutally physical roles, and the rest of the

Women Voters League Asks Open Meetings

BALTIMORE—(AP)—The League of Women Voters of Baltimore has requested open meetings for all municipal boards and commissions.

Mrs. John B. Ramsay Jr., league vice president, proposed an ordinance requiring open meetings. She said it should be modeled after a State law which prevents State boards and commissions from holding secret sessions.

The attorney general has ruled the State law does not apply to Baltimore City agencies unless they receive direct State grants.
Mrs. Ramsay proposed an ordinance reading:

"All meetings, regular and special,
of the boards or commissions in control of any department, bureau or other agency in the executive and administrative branch of the government of the City of Baltimore shall be public meetings and open to the public at all times.

"Nothing contained herein shall be construed to prevent any such board or commission from holding an executive session from which the public is excluded, but no resolution, rule or regulation shall be finally adopted at such an executive session."

Mrs. Ramsay said the League knows of no abuses taking place in the city government as a result of secret meetings. But she said the principle of open meetings should be incorporated into city law as it has in State law.

in a tipsy condition.

istrate's Court on Tuesday to

Stamps Pose Threat, House Unit Learns

Have Driven Small Business To Wall, Legislators Told

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A witness told a House committee today that stamps pose "the greatest threat to small business that has appeared on the economic horizon in the last 10 or 15 years."

Ed Wimmer, spokesman for the National Federation of Independent Businesses of America, used the description in urging the Ways and Means Committee to approve a bill which would cut the State of Maryland in on the stamp profits.

Sponsored by Del. Mandel (D-Balto 5th), the bill would require the stamp companies to pay into the State treasury amounts equal to the value of stamps which go unredeemed one year after issuance.

Some Go Bankrupt

Wimmer said the bootlegging stamp business has driven small grocery and filling station operators to bankruptcy of several firms whose competitors used the stamps as unfair competitive weapons.

"The appliance business today is virtually in ruins" because so many housewives obtain appliances as stamp premiums instead of buying from normal retail stores, said Wimmer.

About 200 housewives and merchants attended the hearing in the house chamber.

Independent retail grocers were lined up against the measure, with stamp companies and merchants who offer the stamps scheduled to appear in its behalf.

Different Viewpoints

Clarence W. Miles, Maryland counsel for the Sperry-Hutchinson Co. of New York, said the firm's vice president, William Beinecke, would be on hand for the hearing along with a "substantial number" of housewives, merchants and stamp distributors.

Joseph Manning, executive secretary of the Independent Retail Grocers Assn., was set to lead the battle against the stamps by merchants who don't offer them and claim to suffer competitively. They have contended that the stamps are paid for through higher prices.

The so-called "green stamp" hearing was one of several scheduled during the day as the Legislature sought to wind up its business for the week.

The Senate Finance Committee planned to complete hearing arguments for and against a proposed merger of Pimlico and Laurel race tracks, and the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee took up all motor vehicle legislation remaining in its files.

Would Stop Price Cutting

The House Alcoholic Beverages Committee heard arguments on a bill which would outlaw cutting of liquor prices by dealers below a specified limit. It was expected to bring strong protests from dealers who mark down standard brands as "specials."

Meanwhile, a new bill was due in the House to apply a similar State "fair trade" law to beer. Del. Hickman (D-Worcester) planned to introduce it.

Approximately 500 persons jammed the House chamber and galleries yesterday for the teacher pay hearing, and about 80 per cent of them told Chairman Boone (D-Balto County) of the Ways and Means Committee that they favored raising the sales tax to finance the increase.

Others, including representatives of organized labor, preferred an income tax raise.

Boone interrupted the hearing to tell them that raising 24 to 26 million dollars to finance the increase would require hosting one of the two major levies and asked them to take a stand. They did it by a show of hands on the two proposals.

Shortage Growing

Educators told the committee that Maryland's teacher shortage is growing more acute and can only be solved by bringing State salary scales up to those of neighboring states and offering more competition with other professions.

The State Department of Education has requested that teachers be paid $800 more a year in two steps, $400 next school year and $400 more the following year.

Other committee business today includes the Senate Labor Committee's consideration of the new version of a "right to work" bill, which would ban the union shop in Maryland.

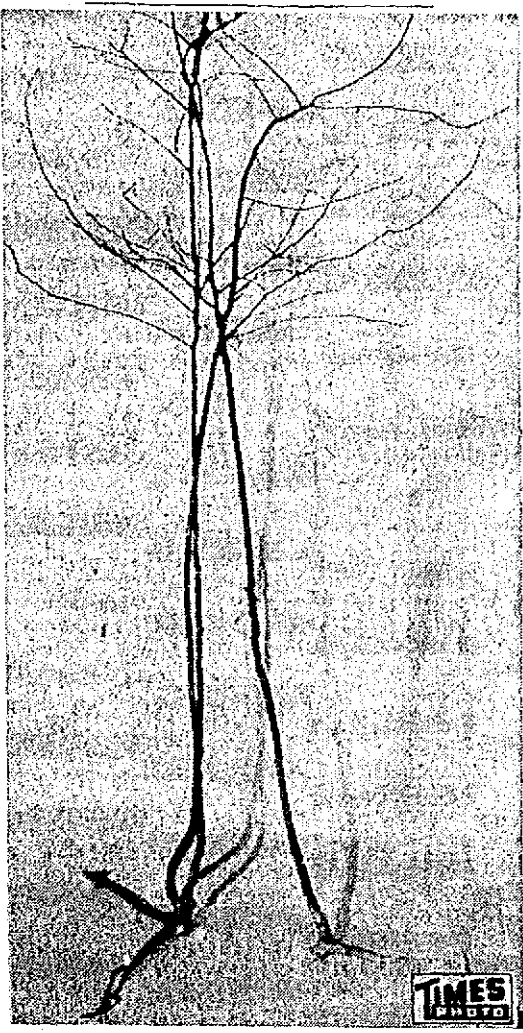

At a two-hour hearing yesterday the committee heard accounts of money mysteriously appearing through a slot in the office door of the bill's chief backer and of charges that unions resort to hooliganism and reprisals to discourage those who oppose the union shop.

Anonymous Backing

Mrs. Dorothy Davis, chairman of the right-to-work Committee of People's Union, Inc., said her lobbying efforts in favor of the bill were sponsored primarily by anonymous contributions received through the slot in her office door or through the mail.

The committee was told by William Straver—at one time or another a member of unions representing aircraft employees, carpenters, bakery employees and railroad workers—that he had been "temporarily crippled" after a controversy over payment of his

Now Is Time For Sassafras Tea

By C. A. LANCASTER
Evening Times Staff Writer

Sassafras—A handsome tree, Sassafras albidum, of the laurel family, native to eastern North America.

And that is not all the tree means for those of this section who know of its "medicinal" or "spiritual" value.

For in many families, the weeks preceding the vernal equinox, the first day of spring, it is immediately sought out just as the old timers headed for the molasses jug and the sulfur at this time of the year.

Pungent Tea

The root of the sassafras tree will produce one of the most tasty and pungent teas that can be had.

All one needs is the root of the sapling, or scrapings from the root, plus some hot water and sugar and a first class spring tune-up drink can be produced.

The recipe is simple. Just place the roots or the scrapings from the outer bark of the root into a pot of boiling water. Let it boil until the water becomes a brownish red in color.

Then the spring tonic is ready for the cup and the sugar.

Many are the "cures" that are effected by this tea. The old timers say it purges the system of the winter's dullness, adds zest to the balmy spring days.

But if one is not interested in these fascinating "medicinal" qualities to be had from this drink, he can enjoy a very delightful, tasty libation.

We in this section of the country who swear by sassafras tea feel we are a lot better off than those "unfortunate" souls who live elsewhere in these United States.

Found In China

For there are but two members of this genus of tree. The other member of the family is found only in Central China.

The sassafras tree is pyramidal in form, reaching a height of from 40 to 60 feet. It has a dark furrowed bark when grown beyond the sapling stage.

The leaves are light green, some of which may be oval, some three lobed and some mitten-shaped.

In a few weeks one may see its flowers which are small, greenish yellow. These are followed by blue fruits on pinkish fruiting stalks.

However, one wants to look for the sapling sassafras to get at the delicious roots. The bottom trunk of the sapling is light brownish grey, and at this time of the year, the gray becomes lighter towards the top part which is a brighter green.

Sometimes In Groves

Sassafras can be found most anywhere in this section, with whole groves of the young trees being found in the vicinities of the large trees.

This time of year the forest dirt is moist and the roots can be dug or pulled easily from the ground. A little hoe salvages even the most tender and smallest extent of the root system.

In case one cannot get into the woods to get the delectable roots, he can purchase it in many grocery stores and downtown fruit stands, either in the scrapings or the root form. Then there are door-to-door peddlars at this time of year who are vending the tea material.

Besides the refreshing tea, some people of the northeastern United States use the mucilaginous young leaves and pith.

Soft And Light

Dried and powdered, these are employed in certain sections to thicken soups or as a condiment.

The wood of the sassafras tree is soft and light in weight.

To many, the sassafras tea's purging power for the "evils" of the winter's hibernative living is followed later in the spring by such products of the woods and fields as dandelion greens, lambs' quarters, ramps, "poke," wild lettuce, wild water cress and the many wild greens that abound in these parts.

And for those who taste of sassafras tea for the first time, they can attest to the old statement that "Grandma" knew what she was talking about."

Auto Signals Located On Henderson

Expected To Be In Operation By End Of Next Month

Traffic signals have been erected at three intersections on Henderson Avenue that are being equipped with crossing gates.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will have gates at Franklin, Pear, Valley and Knox streets.

The Queen City Electric Company of this city has the contract to install the avenue signals at Valley, Knox and Pear streets. Franklin Street goes under the Henderson Avenue Bridge.

This work is about 70 per cent completed, an official of the company said.

Operate In Month

The gates at the four crossings are expected to be in operation, along with the synchronized traffic lights, by the end of next month.

As trains approach the crossings controlled by gates, the traffic signals for vehicles traveling on Henderson Avenue remain green when the gates drop.

At the same time, the light controlling cars approaching the avenue on the three cross streets on the avenue side have green arrows indicating entrance on the avenue.

When there are no trains on the tracks, and no cars on the approaching side streets, the lights will remain green for through traffic on the avenue.

However, magnetic devices have been installed under the surfaces of approaches to the crossings on all three streets, both above and below the tracks.

Lights Turn Red

When a vehicle hits these, the lights for through traffic on the avenue turn red, and the cross street signal turns green.

The gates have been installed at the Franklin Street crossing, but the arms have not been placed.

Foundations are being built by the signal department of the city for the other three crossings.

Operating cable for the gates has been strung and the B&O crews are setting up the controls.

The City Street Department has cut back the curbs at Valley, Pear and Knox Streets, giving cars more room to make the swing on and off the crossings from the avenue.

Girl Injured After Mother Wrecks Car

Nancy Duling, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Galen Duling, Petersburg, W. Va., was reported in "fairly good" condition this morning at Memorial Hospital where she was admitted yesterday afternoon with injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

According to Cpl. D. E. Adams of the Petersburg detachment of West Virginia State Police, the girl was traveling with her mother, Mrs. Florence Duling, when the car went out of control on W. Va. State Route 42 near Crossroads.

Route 42, Cpl. Adams explained, is a narrow dirt road at that point, and Mrs. Duling ran off into a ditch, traveled about 40 feet and then careened across the road and rolled over twice down an embankment.

The young girl was thrown from the vehicle and sustained two broken arms, a dislocation and abrasions. She was also suffering from shock. Memorial attaches said. The mother was X-rayed at the hospital and then released. Her husband is assistant superintendent of Grant County schools.

No charges have been preferred pending completion of the investigation.

Undergarment Co. Seeks Plant Sites

The Cumberland Undergarment Company has announced its aim to have new plants in Cumberland and in Frostburg.

Maurice Milberg, manager of the company which has had a plant in Cumberland for a number of years, met with a group of Frostburg businessmen last night in that city's council chamber.

He informed them that the firm is definitely interested in opening a new plant in Frostburg as soon as possible.

Would Stay Here

He stressed the fact that his company is forced to vacate the building it occupies in Cumberland on Gay Street, and the firm has been conferring with the Industrial Promotion Department of Commerce in regards to the construction of a new building here.

The proposed plant in Frostburg will not be large enough for the company's needs, so the firm definitely plans to operate two plants if possible.

Milberg said today the three-story building on Gay Street owned by the Gay Realty Company does not lend itself to the garment industry.

His firm, he added, is interested in a one-floor operation and wishes to retain its plant in Cumberland where it has been located since 1945. The employment total at the local plant runs from between 280 to 320 persons.

To Present Plan

He said specifications for a Cumberland plant will be presented to the Chamber's industrial promotion committee next week.

Joseph M. Naughton, chairman of the industrial promotion unit, said his group is waiting for the specifications so that definite contractors' prices may be obtained.

It is the wish of the committee, he said, to do everything practicable and possible for existing industries of the Cumberland area.

As soon as specifications are obtained Naughton added, the committee can present a concrete proposal in the form of a lease, or purchase agreement.

Mayor Joseph James of Frostburg called the meeting last night to discuss the possibilities of Frostburg inducing a new industry.

Building Possible

Tentative plans for a building in Frostburg were presented. It called for the construction of a Quonset type structure of prefabricated steel containing 16,000 square feet of floor space. This would cost approximately $75,000 to erect.

Milberg stated that such a plant of this size would meet the requirements for the employment of between 120 and 125 persons when in full production, and would have a payroll of about $500,000 annually.

Mayor James stated that the friendly suit being brought before the court to determine the legality of the City of Frostburg selling bonds to finance the construction of such a building for the use of private industry has not as yet been heard, and it may be some time before a decision is rendered in the case. Even then, James continued, the court's decision may not be in the affirmative.

Milberg stated that it is imperative that his company get a new plant completed and into production as quickly as possible, and it was suggested by one of the businessmen present that in order to do this it may be best to bypass the issuance of city bonds at this time and sell stock in the project to the citizens of the community and nearby areas.

It was pointed out that in a previous campaign, $80,000 was subscribed in this manner, and the stock for the construction of the factory for the company, according to his statement, would bear three per cent interest and would be retired within 20 years.

Pledges taken from the citizens in the previous campaign were for stock which would bear no

Henderson Asks Study Of Court Bill

Urges Meeting Of Minds Before Any Action Is Taken

Chief Judge George Henderson today called for a thorough and open discussion of the proposal to raise the status of the Juvenile Court to Circuit Court level before any action is taken, in a statement which he released to the press today.

The statement follows: "I have been asked to make a statement on the proposed bill to raise the Juvenile Court to the Circuit Court level. Since I require from the bench in a year and have no special personal interest in this matter, I feel free to speak on what closely concerns the administration of justice in Allegheny County.

"Last summer Thomas J. S. Waxter, director of the State Department of Public Welfare, discussed with me the Juvenile Court situation. There was no criticism of the administration of the court by Morris Baron, in fact we agreed that he was highly to be commended for the work he was doing.

Political Football

"However, it has been apparent that the appointment to the position can be, and has been, a political football. Nominally it is the Governor of Maryland who has the power of appointment; actually it is the state senator from Allegheny County who selects the juvenile judge.

"One possible solution is that which has been tried in Baltimore County. It may not be the ideal system for Allegheny County, but certainly it should be considered. And in Baltimore County the Juvenile Court is 'on the Circuit Court level' but it is done in a manner which differs from the method proposed by Senator See—at least I believe it does, though I have never been sent by him a copy of his bill.

"The Allegheny County Delegation last year held hearing on certain proposed legislation. At the time to my recollection it indicated that there was being considered any change in the law pertaining to the Juvenile Court. This has been brought to public notice only since the legislative session began. Nor as yet has the proposed law been printed in full in any of the local newspapers.

Opinion Not Sought

"And I might add that up to this time neither Senator See nor any member of the delegation has asked my opinion on the need for a fourth judge in this circuit, nor on how the Juvenile Court should be handled.

"While I will not here express any opinion as to what should be done, it is my strong belief that nothing should be done until the entire situation has been thoroughly and openly discussed here in Allegheny County.

"When a proper solution is found, which meets with substantial approval, which is based on what will best promote the administration of justice, and in which political considerations have no part, there should be no difficulty in securing legislative approval at Annapolis."

Damage Case Opens Here

Testimony was started in Circuit Court today of a $50,000 damage suit brought by a Frostburg man for injuries received in a highway accident on Braddock Road.

A jury is hearing the case with Chief Judge George Henderson presiding.

James M. Murray, 209 Center Street, Frostburg, is seeking damages for injuries received while a passenger in the car of Carney Williams Jr., 137 Wood Street, Frostburg on February 18, 1955 while they were returning home from a shuffleboard contest in Cumberland. Both were members of the Frostburg Eagles team.

Murray testified that as a result of his injuries he was unable to work for a long period of time with the B&O Railroad in Keyser and has since suffered headaches and pain in his left arm. He also said he was in Sacred Heart Hospital for 33 days.

Simon F. Reilly and Milton Gerson are attorneys for Murray while Williams is represented by W. Earle Cobey.

Mexico Farms Man Worried On Road Plan

Elwood Rowley Says Surveys Being Made On His Property

A rather angry exchange took place at today's session of the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners when a resident of the Mexico Farms area appeared to register a complaint.

Elwood Rowley, who had appeared before the board last week along with a delegation from that section concerning the route of a proposed road from the area to Oldtown Road, told the commissioners that at the time he was told the road plans were in the tentative stage.

Rowley said that several days ago a survey crew had been working on his property and placing stakes.

"This is being done without my permission and it looks like there is a route for the new road picked out," Rowley stated.

He said the Mexico Farms area residents were told that they would be informed of any plans on the road. Commissioners William H. Lemmert and James Orr said they knew nothing whatever of the survey work underway.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson said the proposed road is being built under the federal aid program and with part of the cost being paid out of gasoline tax money. Wilkinson said the county commissioners should know what is planned.

Rowley then brought up the question of a ditch that runs across his property and which he says has not been cleaned since 1947. He said that there is an agreement by which the ditch is to be cleaned twice a year.

He said that the agreement was made sometime prior to 1941. J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, said he would stop at Rowley's home to look at the agreement. Chapman said that the state had control of roads in the period when the reported agreement was made.

Pair Accused Of Stealing W. M. Scrap

Two men accused of taking scrap metal Sunday night from a pile along the Western Maryland at North Branch will face a preliminary hearing late today or tomorrow.

Taken into custody yesterday by Lt. Bernard E. Reaky, of the Western Maryland Railway police here, were Donald Willard Swanger, 20, of 119 Roberts Street, and Eugene Paul Swick, 25, of Maryland Street.

The two men are also being held in the connection with breaking and entering B&O Railroad sheds, one at Corriganville and the other at 21st Bridge between here and Keyser, within the last three weeks.

Lt. Reaky said the younger man admitted the thefts in a statement taken yesterday by County Investigator Edwin R. Lilly.

The two men are charged with obtaining $47 for the Western Maryland scrap, which were pieces of cars wrecked at North Branch several months ago.

Both suspects are in the County Jail awaiting the preliminary hearing.

Morgan Baby Car Victim

David Allen Kessecker, 22-month-old son of H. Artiss and Pearl (Nickelson) Kessecker, was fatally injured Wednesday in an unusual automobile accident at his home, Sleepy Creek, near Berkeley Springs, W. Va.

The child's mother had returned from marketing and had taken the baby from the car before removing the groceries. The vehicle, parked on a hill in front of the home, slipped its brakes and passed over the child's body.

Taken to Morgan County War Memorial Hospital, Berkeley Springs, the child died about two hours after being admitted.

Services were conducted this afternoon at Sleepy Creek Evangelical United Brethren Church and interment was in Pleasant Hill Cemetery, Berkeley Springs.

Local 'Back Yard Mine' Case Of 'Wrong Number'

A Cumberland Street man stood with a puzzled look on his face this morning as he watched workmen wheeling coal from behind his residence.

"Did you find a mine in the back yard?" asked John J. McGraw to one of the men behind the wheelbarrow. The resident of 312 Cumberland Street hadn't used coal for the past ten years for heating purposes and he was at a loss to understand the movement of the "black diamond" fuel, as a closer investigation showed the coal coming from his basement.

The explanation was a case of a "wrong number."

The men, employed by a local coal firm, had been instructed to deliver the load to 328 Cumberland Street. In some manner they became confused, probably due to the widow of the McGraw coal bin being open.

A peek into the window showed the McGraw bin empty as "Old Mother Hubbard's" fabled cupboard. No one was home at the time, so in went the load.

The delivery was made Wednesday and yesterday Mrs. Robert Mattingly of the 328 address received a bill for the coal. A call to the company revealed that the load had been dumped at the wrong residence.

So, early today two men showed up at the McGraw home and began wheeling the load several doors up the street.

For all workers who have had no sick leave during the year an additional week's vacation is requested. It was also requested that three days sick leave be given without the necessity of obtaining a doctor's certificate.

The employees asked that a decision be given by March 22 but the commissioners said they would be unable to decide anything until at least the end of the month.

Flag Bill Introduced

Maryland's U.S. Senators, J. Glenn Beall and John Marshall Butler, and two of the state's congressmen, DeWitt S. Hyde and James Devereux, have introduced legislation which would permit the American flag to fly 24 hours a day at the birthplace and also at the grave of Francis Scott Key, author of the "Star Spangled Banner." Key was born in Carroll County and is buried at Frederick.

Undergarment

To Retire Stock

Millberg noted that this same plan was used to finance the construction of the company's plant in Salisbury, Pa., and all of the stock purchased by the citizens of Salisbury and nearby communities less than ten years ago will be retired within a year. This plan has been an invaluable asset to the economy of this little Southern Pennsylvania town, he asserted.

Before any stock can be issued, it was pointed out, it will be necessary to form a corporation. However, it was noted that the Frostburg Industrial Corporation, formed several years ago for the same general purpose, is still in existence, and it may be possible to eliminate this time consuming phase of the project by revitalizing this corporation, rather than forming a new corporation with identical objectives.

Mayor James and City Commissioner William Eberly stated that they would confer with City Attorney Edward J. Ryan and ascertain the legality of the suggested procedure, and then call another meeting at an early date to which all persons interested in the project will be invited.

Several suggested sites for the construction of the plant have been viewed by Millberg and city officials, and a large plot of ground owned by the Borden Mining Company at the base of Big Savage Mountain on the north side of Route 40 has been tentatively decided upon. Florian Nickel, representative of the Borden Mining Company, assured the group at last night's meeting that the land would be kept available until a final decision was reached.

Two Accused On Tax Violations

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Washington physician has been charged with failing to file a Federal income tax return for 1955 even though she grossed $12,247.

The charge was filed yesterday against Dr. Helen Gladys Kain. A similar charge was filed against James J. Raley, a Washington service station operator. Without specifying the amount, the government said Raley made enough in 1953 and 1954 to file returns but failed to do so.

Gamblers Net Two Million In Illegal Bets

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. — West Virginia gamblers raked in nearly two million dollars in illegal bets and gaming in the past eight months. That's the official federal government says so.

Philip L. Charles, district director for the Internal Revenue Service, said yesterday that 300 gamblers purchased $50 gambling tax stamps in the state from July through February. Some of them also bought up to 10 of the government's $250 gaming device tax stamps.

The government took in $125,300 from stamps, Charles added, and an additional $105,000 for the 10 percent federal excise tax on gambling during the eight-month period.

His figures indicate that illegal gambling pays well. Total income reported by the gamblers was $1,958,000—an average of $6,454 each during the eight months, or better than $600 per month.

Nurse Discusses Health Problems

FROSTBURG—Mrs. Merl Jackson, school health nurse with the Department of Health in Cumberland, spoke on the principles of teaching classes at State Teachers College Wednesday. She stressed the importance of beginning teachers being cognizant of the health of each pupil in the classroom. She reviewed all records kept on children pertaining to health, pointing out the importance of such data in better understanding the child.

"Teachers so often become so enthused in the teaching of subject matter that they fail to observe the physical aspects of the children in their classes," said Mrs. Jackson.

Members of the classes who are now ready to enter their practice teaching program at the college presented many questions they felt needed answered prior to their teaching experience. Mrs. Jackson, in answering their queries, also spoke regarding the new health records being introduced throughout the state in September, 1957.

Robert W. Jones, instructor on the principles of teaching classes, introduced Mrs. Jackson.

The four losses to North Carolina were by a total of only 18 points. The Tar Heels won by 61-59, 69-61, 72-69 and 63-55.

Only one of the five players on the squad who saw action in all 23 contests will be on hand next season. Four of the starters—forward Jack Williams, center Jim Gilley, and guards Jackie Murdock and Ernie Wiggins—closed out their college eligibility.

Williams capped scoring honors for the year with a 16.2 mark with Murdock second at 15.3. Gilley had a 13.7 average and Wiggins a 12.8.

Murdock, who established a new ACC mark with 39 consecutive free throws, made a clean sweep of honors for the season. He was named to the Carrousel, Dixie Classic and ACC all-tournament teams as well as being selected on the AP, UP and Atlantic Coast Sports Writers' all-league selections.

The Deacs also placed high among the nation's leaders in field goal percentage and free throw percentage. Murdock and Wiggins both ranked in the top five in the nation in free throws.

Murdock made good on 485 of 542 free throw attempts during his three-year college career for a final percentage of .893.

Sports Keg Residue

Cumberland's Clarence Schaffner, a standout baseball player in the day of the old Georges Creek League, postcards from St. Petersburg, Fla., where he spends every winter watching the major leaguers train. . . . saw that 13-inning game between the Red Sox and Yankees which the Sox won, 1-0, and it could be the best of the entire grapefruit season," writes the former infielder. . . . "Lots of talent on both sides, but the pitchers were definitely ahead of the batters today." . . . This game was played Wednesday afternoon. . . . When Westernport's Don Moran poured in those 47 points for Cumberland's champion Old Germanians the other evening, he set a City Basketball League record for the season. . . . The erstwhile University of Maryland cager was white hot and would have gone over the 50 mark hadn't he lost three baskets in the first half. . . . two of those goals being nullified by three-second violations of his teammates. . . . William "Junior" Perry, who set the Pen-Mar Baseball League record for several seasons with his fiery bat, writes to friends in Keyser and Piedmont saying he is hitting well in the New York Giants' spring training camp at Sanford, Fla. . . . Perry, who also starred at Potomac State College, was married before leaving for Florida to the former Miss Cleta Beck with of Cumberland. . . . The Hedgesville High Eagles, who surprised by winning the Region 4 West Virginia "B" tournament last week and meets Coalition tonight for the right to go to Huntington next week for the state playoffs, are desperately in need of a new gym. . . . The gym of the Berkeley County high school seats only 200 fans and the Eagles have been doing a lot of their practicing for tourney play on the spacious floor of Musselman High. . . . A number of schools in the Hedgesville area, including Paw Paw, have had new gymnasiums built, but for some reason the Eagles have been overlooked. . . . Incidentally, the gym at Hagerstown's new North High, to be ready in 1958, will seat more than 2,000. Apparently, Hub City school officials figured that the 1,300 seating capacity of South High will be inadequate for the future, after seeing it filled to overflowing by the District I tournament last weekend. . . . The South gym seats 1,300 persons.

'AULD LANG SYNE'—The recent dedication of the Comie Mack Room in the Sheraton Hotel, Philadelphia, resulted in this reunion above. ## Good Future Predicted For Al Pilarcik

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—New outfielder Al Pilarcik, who spent his honeymoon traveling to the Baltimore Orioles training camp, is a man with a big league future.

So says Orioles manager Paul Richards, adding "I think Pilarcik may be the guy we're looking for to help lift us out of sixth place."

Once a New York Yankee farm hand, the 26-year-old Pilarcik impressed Richards with his spirited play in his major league debut with the Kansas City Athletics last year.

So, a post-season deal brought Pilarcik to the Orioles in whose sprawling Memorial Stadium at Baltimore the Whiting, Ind., speedster played his first major league game for the A's last July 19.

In 69 games for the Athletics, Pilarcik batted .251 and drove in 22 runs. Hardly an eye-catching performance. But Richards is gambling that a bruised heel on which he insisted on playing late last season kept the real Pilarcik under wraps.

"This boy is a fielder with a lot of eye appeal," said Richards today. "You have to like the way he goes about doing things. We know he's a fine defensive player and I'll be greatly disappointed if within a year he hasn't developed into a good hitter."

Pilarcik has been getting a lot of growing at the plate from Richards, especially in bunting. Good Pass Receiver

If Pilarcik measures up to Richards' expectations, not only will Oriole pitching benefit by his good glove work and strong arm, but Tito Francona and Dick Williams could be sprung from the outfield for infield assignments.

Pilarcik, who got married on Valentine's Day and drove to Scottsdale on "a sort of honeymoon," signed right out of Whiting (Ind.) High School with the Yankees after toying with the idea of playing football for Notre Dame.

Although only 5 feet, 10 and weighing 165, Pilarcik was a brilliant pass receiver as a prep back. Notre Dame made a pass at him, but Al elected to field the horseshoe instead of the pigskin.

"I thought there was a better future in baseball," Pilarcik explained.

So he began playing for the Yankees in 1948 at their Independence club in the Kansas-Oklahoma-Missouri League, batting .299. The next year he was at Joplin and batted .304. In 1950, with Quincy in the Class B Three I League, he hit .273. The next two seasons he was with Beaumont in the Texas League, batting .249 and .303.

Broken Thumb May Put Skowron Out Of Opener

The spring exhibition baseball season is not yet a week old and the champion Yankees and Dodgers already are nursing their sick and injured.

The world champion Bronx Bombers lost one of their big guns yesterday when X-rays revealed that infielder Bill Skowron suffered a broken right thumb.

He received the fracture when a fast ball thrown by Philadelphia rookie right-hander Jack Sanford hit him during the fourth inning of Wednesday's game at Clearwater. The Yanks sorrowfully announced that the Moose is out of commission for the rest of the grapefruit campaign and may miss the April 16 opener.

Chase Stengel substituted Marv Throneberry at first base and the Yankee defeated Detroit, 3 to 2, in ten innings—their third straight overtime game.

Brooklyn, meanwhile, sweated out a possible epidemic of mumps. The pilot of the Dodger plane came down with the ailment yesterday and pitcher Roger Craig is under observation at Vero Beach. The rest of the squad is keeping its fingers crossed, awaiting expiration of the incubation period.

Because of the pilot's illness, a skeleton Dodger crew of 17 players was forced to rush in autos 160 miles to Bradenton for a game which Milwaukee GM John Quinn wouldn't cancel.

The result was a 12-to-9 beating for the Braves as Frank Torre, Andy Pafko, Jim Pendleton and Hank Homberg for the Braves, Pafko hitting a grand slam. Don Zimmer and Gil Hodges connected for Brooklyn.

It was a generally bad day for pitchers as the sluggers opened up with hoib barrels. Jim Landis also hit a bases-loaded homer, for Chicago, as the White Sox pounded Washington, 12 to 2, at Tampa. Rookie Landis also belted a two-run homer. Jim Rivera homered twice and Earl Batley hit another.

Pirates Lose First

The Phillies nosed out Kansas City, 7 to 6, in a six-homer game at Clearwater. Bobby Morgan had two for the Phils and Bob Bowman, one. The rest were by Ned Garver, Harry Simpson and Gus Zernial.

Cincinnati handed Pittsburgh its first spring defeat in six starts, 7 to 4, with the aid of a George Crowe homer. Andre Rodgers and Gail Harter homered in vain for the New York Giants as the Baltimore Orioles blasted Johnny Antonelli, making his first start, with a five-run third inning. Gus Triandos provided the big blow with a two-run homer.

Cleveland needed 13 innings to dump the Chicago Cubs, 9 to 8, at Mesa. Bill Harrell homered for the Tribe and Walt Moryn and George Freese for the Bruins.

He Delock, Frank Sullivan and George Susce shut out St. Louis, 4 to 0, with three-hit pitching as Boston scored all its runs in the first inning with the aid of four walks issued by Vinegar Bend Mizell.

Chisox-Nat Trade Near, Says Griffith

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Calvin Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, says he and Chuck Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox are getting close to a deal. Comiskey agrees.

Both said today they had reached agreement on a tentative trading list, but the names were not disclosed. It was learned, however, that Chicago is interested in third baseman Eddie Yost, outfielder-infielder Roy Sievers, and catcher Clint Courtney. It was not determined whether the Sox want all three.

Washington was reported to be holding out for a "first-line outfielder" and possibly some young pitchers, but there were no indications as to the specific players the Senators might be eyeing.

Washington was reported to be holding out for a "first-line outfielder" and possibly some young pitchers, but there were no indications as to the specific players the Senators might be eyeing.

The doctors say Hanner, whose shoulder was operated on after the 1955 season, should not try to play every day as long as the pain continues. The medics say the ache will be there until the tendon in the shoulder heals. Quoting Dr. Sidney P. Gaylor of the New York Yankees, Hanner said:

"He told me that could happen overnight, and when it did I could do anything I wanted. Until it does I'm still a pitcher."

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Bob Boyd and Jim Brideweser won't be with the Baltimore Orioles when they tangle with the Chicago Cubs at Los Angeles this weekend. Although he took infield practice yesterday, Brideweser was still favoring a cut on his big toe. Boyd continued to limp from the sprained ankle he suffered Wednesday in the game against the Cleveland Indians.

Manager Paul Richards listed pitchers Erv Palica, George Zupnick and Mike Fornieles to go against the Cubs in the first of a three-game series tonight.

Sullivan's Loss Blow To Mounties

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—The NCAA's newest tournament champion will be crowned tonight at Municipal Stadium with a pair of hot-shooting basketball teams, Wheaton (Ill.) College and Kentucky Wesleyan, meeting for the small college championship.

Wesleyan put on the greatest sharp-shooting rally of the tournament in last night's semi-finals, pouring in 28 points in the first nine minutes of the second half and going on to hand Mount St. Mary's of Emmitsburg, Md., its first loss in 22 starts, 99-81.

Wesleyan's Panthers hit a remarkable 335 of their floor shots and cooled off the Mountaineers' No. 3 small college scorer of the nation, Jack Sullivan, for 10 points.

Sullivan had set a stadium record of 99 in the quarter-finals. He fouled out in the last 7 1/2 minutes against the Panthers, whose scoring was fueled by Logan Gite with 25 points, Bill Bibb with 22 and Tom Cox with 20.

Top-Rated Carolina Has Test In Canisius

A crystal ball would come in mighty handy in determining the victors of eight second-round games tonight in the National Collegiate Association (NCAA) basketball tournament in four cities across the nation.

Even though North Carolina, the No. 1 team in the nation with 28 straight victories, is conceded the edge over Canisius (21-5) at Philadelphia, who can foretell what will happen when Syracuse (17-6) and LaFayette (22-3) meet in the other half of the twin bill tonight at the Palestra in that city.

The winners will be matched for the Eastern crown tomorrow night with the victor representing the East in the national tournament at Kansas City next Friday and Saturday.

Pitt Plays Kentucky

In other pairings, Pittsburgh (16-6) will play Kentucky (22-4) at the No. 3 team in the final International News Service basketball ratings, at Lexington, Ky. Michigan State (14-8) plays Notre Dame (19-7) in the other half of the doubleheader.

At Dallas, St. Louis (19-7) tangles with Oklahoma City (18-8) and Kansas, the No. 2 team, faces Southern Methodist (21-3) at Corvallis, Ore. Brigham Young (18-9) battles California (20-4) and Idaho State (25-2) engages San Francisco (16-6), defending NCAA titlist.

There's other action along the tournament trail tonight. At Evansville, Ind., Wheaton College of Illinois battles Kentucky Wesleyan for the NCAA small college tournament crown.

Kentucky Wesleyan surged from behind with 20 points in the opening nine minutes of the second half to stun Mt. St. Mary's of Emmitsburg, Md., 99 to 81, in a semi-final game last night.

Wheaton Drops L. A.

Wheaton, leading all the way, eliminated Los Angeles State, 71 to 53, in the other semi-final affair. Nine minutes also was a magic amount for Wheaton which rammed in 20 points in that time during the second half.

Semi-final games at the National Intercollegiate (NIAA) Tournament at Kansas City tonight will pit Southeastern Oklahoma against Eastern Illinois of Charleston and Tennessee State.

Hunter's Bid For A's Post To Be Battle

TAMPA, Fla. — (INS) — They say that many Yankee "irregulars" can play first string with most American League clubs, but former Bomber infielder Billy Hunter may have a hard time winning the shortstop job with the last-place Kansas City Athletics.

Hunter, the 28-year-old "take charge" guy who moved to the A's in the recent 13-player trade, is battling for the shortstop job with Joe DeMaestri.

DeMaestri, who is also 28, has given notice he will not surrender his post without a struggle although he hit only .223 last season and his fielding also lost a little lustre.

Leg OK Now
Hunter bated .280 in 39 games with New York. The previous year he had hit .227 in 93 games, then was optioned to Denver where he broke his left leg. He says the leg is OK now.

Manager Lou Boudreau comments: "I got the impression watching Hunter last year that he didn't move with the count on the batters. I don't believe an infielder can do himself justice unless he pays strict attention to the count. If he doesn't, he often misses a grounder by a step or a half-step."

Says Hunter: "With all respect to Joe DeMaestri, who I think is a fine shortstop, I hope to play regularly for the A's."

And DeMaestri comments: "Last year was one I'd just as soon forget. It was certainly a bad one for me. An injured foot didn't do me any good, but it's all right now."

DeMaestri is a steady, but not a flashy player. Hunter has a nonchalant air as he fields a ball.

Acquisition of Milt Graff from the Yankees' Denver team gives the A's another promising second baseman to replace Jim Finigan, traded to Detroit. Graff will compete for the berth with Curt Roberts.

Graff, a hustler, hit .314 in 149 games for Birmingham last year, while Roberts was batting .320 for Columbus in 85 games. Earlier in the season, Roberts had .177 in 31 games with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Both are good fielders, but it remains to be seen which one can hit major league pitching best.

Advance notices seem to favor Graff, Boudreau says.

"He could be the second baseman we have been seeking ever since the club was moved to Kansas City. If Graff is able to beat out Roberts at second we can put Vic Power's mind at ease and let him know he'll be our first baseman — instead of having to shift him between first and second."

Potomac, LaVale In Flight Finals

Semi-finals are carded tomorrow in the first flight and the title game in the second flight of the Central YMCA Sunday School Basketball League with Potomac Park EUB and LaVale Baptist reaching the finals by winning games last night on the "Y" court.

LaVale whipped St. Mark's 42-33, and Potomac Park trimmed First Methodist, 33-20. Davidson and Trenton patted LaVale with 14 and 13 rallies while Jack Cranor showed in 23 for St. Mark's. Windle's 23 markers were high for Potomac Park.

Teams fighting for a shot at the finals in the first flight are undefeated St. Luke's Lutheran, Living Stone Brethren, Central Methodist and Melvin Methodist. Their games are slated for 1 and 4 p.m. with Potomac Park and LaVale meeting at 2:30 in their title fray.

World Skaters Favored Today

BERNELEY, Calif. — Two youngsters who already have captured world crowns, Carol Heiss and Dave Jenkins, seek today to add national figure skating titles to their laurels.

Jenkins, 20-year-old Colorado College premedical student, is one of seven others in the men's division. The precise compulsory figure skating finish up with the free skating tomorrow.

Pert Miss Heiss, the 17-year-old dervish from Ozone Park, N. Y., should wrap up the U. S. title with her free skating program tonight.

Reliever Grissom Reminds Gerdeman Of 'Boots' Miller

This is another in a series of spring training camp stories by Norm Gerdeman, former local baseball star and minor league manager, who is covering major league teams working out in the Far West. Gerdeman now resides in Lake Tahoe, Nev., where he is employed by Wagon Wheel Casino.

By NORM GERDEMAN

PHOENIX, Ariz. (Special to The Times)—Marv Grissom, mellowing with age, will resume a pitching career he launched 16 years ago when the New York Giants' mound staff opens the season at the Polo Grounds next month.

Although lost in the shuffle with a 1-1 record last summer, Marv showed a sensational 1.56 earned-run average, making him about the handiest fireman in the majors.

His ERA was 2.36 with the pennant-winning Giants and .293 the next season as he hurled the equivalent of a full season (154 games over the past three campaigns in relief.

"I figure I have a good year or two left," said the 38-year-old relief ace, modestly deprecating his '56 performance.

"The opposition hit the ball well, but generally at someone. You have to be lucky to keep your ERA that low."

Reminds Norm of 'Boots'

The more I talked to this old timer, the more I kept thinking of a great southpaw who twirled for Allegheny High School in the early '30s and later made a name for himself in pro ball. He was the old pitcher from North End, William "Boots" Miller.

I never will forget the honor I helped pull when I was asked who should we pitch in an important game, "Boots" or another hurler. I decided against "Boots" and we were beaten.

Many a time I figure I goofed by not saying Miller.

The time was 1945 and we were playing the always-dangerous Westvaco club in a playoff. The defeat cost our American Legion team, ably coached by Art Garbark, the Bi-State title.

Both "Boots," as I remember him, and Grissom have the same manner of speaking and are similar in their actions. Both are very cooperative.

Getting back to the Giants' bullpen specialist, he feels Allen Worthington could come up to fill the bill for the pitching hungry New Yorkers. Worthington had a mediocre 7-14 record last year but a promising 3.96 earned-run average.

"If he lives up to his potential," said Grissom, "he'll be a big help. He ran up against tough luck in his rookie year. The team didn't get him many runs. I believe he was the victim of three shutouts."

However, Al is a willing pupil, eager to learn. "Bucky" Walters (Giants' pitching coach) helped him last summer but it takes time to develop a new pitcher. And, believe me, it will show up eventually in his hurling."

Margoneri Top Prospect

Grissom, a brother to Lee Grissom, former pitcher with Cincinnati, Brooklyn and Philadelphia of the National League, calls be-spectacular Joe Margoneri a good southpaw hill prospect.

"He's got a good head on him. Joe needs more experience under fire in the majors although perhaps another pitch would make up for the lack of competition. His fast ball is alive and his curve really bends."

Grissom went on to add, "For a College premedical student, he is not bothered by control trouble. I believe development of good change-up pitch would help as much as anything."

Margoneri was an outstanding dervish from Ozone Park, N. Y., who when he came here in 1955, should wrap up the U. S. title with her free skating program tonight.

Andrews Five Reaches Finals In Air Tourney

DENVER — Andrews AFB of Maryland forged from behind to beat ULM AFB of Germany, 32-73, last night and remain the only unbeaten team in the World Air Force Basketball Tournament.

It was the first loss for ULM, a sentimental favorite. The European-African division champions still have a chance to come back in the double-elimination meet in tomorrow's only game.

The Andrews triumph advanced the Maryland crew into Saturday's title game against the ULM-Laredo winner tomorrow night.

Vern Westlake, a former star at Southwestern University in Texas, popped in 24 points for Andrews.

ULM led most of the way and held a 41-31 halftime edge. Andrews pulled even with 9½ minutes left on a follow shot after a missed free throw by Bennett. With four minutes to go, Jesse Arnette's layup put the Maryland Airmen ahead to stay at 69-68. Thereafter, Andrews cashed frequent fouls by ULM in effort to get the ball and 72-70 was the closest the fliers from Germany could get.

Robin Roberts Story May Be Best Of 1957

CLEARWATER, Fla. — The Robin Roberts story could be the best of the 1957 baseball season.

The big man of the Phillies staff slipped last summer and failed to win 20 games for the first time since 1949. Only a stout finish brought him within reach of his goal on the final day of the season.

Now the 30-year-old Roberts has to answer the all-important questions. Has he lost his fast ball? Did overwork take the snap from his rubber arm? Will he change his delivery?

Most pitchers would welcome a "slump" to a 19-18 record but in Roberts' case it was sub par. Although he completed 22 of 37 starts his earned run average of 4.45 was close to the bottom among regular starters. In addition, he led the National League in home runs with a staggering total of 46.

Roberts pitched three shutout innings against Cincinnati in his first outing of the spring season. Afterward he talked.

"No, I don't think I have lost my fast ball," he said. "Last year I didn't throw as hard as I used to. But toward the end of the season I thought I did."

As for a change in pitching style, Roberts isn't ready to make a switch, although he does throw more breaking stuff.

LaSalle Riflers Seek Title Repeat In Match Tonight

LaSalle High's riflers can retain their title in the Christian Brothers Rifle League by defeating Central Catholic of Pittsburgh in the final postal match of the season tonight. A loss by the locals will wind up the race in a three-way deadlock. West Catholic of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh also sharing in the crown.

The Explorers took over the lead Wednesday by whipping Calvert Hall of Baltimore, 480-488, in a postal match. The victory was the sixth in seven matches. Philadelphia wound up its season the same night with a 295-289 triumph over Pittsburgh to take over second place.

LaSalle's victory over Calvert Hall was the second by the margin of one point. The score of the first match was 468-467.

Handy Lantz of LaSalle posted high score of 99 in Wednesday's match.

Moving Pimlico Would Close Baltimore Book, Says Walsh

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The much sought-after views of the Maryland Racing Commission on the proposal to close Pimlico and consolidate with Laurel are scheduled to be heard today.

The Senate Finance Committee spent all its allotted time yesterday listening to Pimlico and Laurel tell why they want the move and Bowie argue against it.

Chairman Turnbull (D - Balto County) said he will ask the racing commission for its attitude this morning and "if it says it doesn't have any" he'll want to know why. The commission held a hearing on the plan last month and issued a long statement without taking a stand.

Walsh Quotes Report
William C. Walsh, conductor of the Bowie resistance movement, sought to put the commission on somewhat of a spot at the outset. He quoted from its own annual report sent to the governor earlier this year.

"In view of the approaching session of the Legislature, we have no suggestions to offer as to any changes or amendments in the law and, therefore, recommend that the present law be allowed to stand unchanged," states the report.

The bill paving the way for closing of Pimlico and moving its 30 days to Laurel was introduced March 4 at the request of the tracks. Walsh said it was "wrong" to ask the Legislature to consider such a major alteration "this late."

Owners Challenged
"Once you move Pimlico, you've closed the book on racing in Baltimore," he said.

Joseph Wyatt, director of the Pimlico campaign, recounted the lack of space to expand the 87-year-old track as the reason behind the move. It has only 90 usable acres and Laurel has 350.

Donald C. Lillis, president of Bowie, also challenged the owners of Pimlico, Ben and Herman Co.

New Sprinkler System Set For Hospital

Sacred Heart Gets $33,250 Grant From Ford Foundation

Part of the Ford Foundation grant of $33,250 received by Sacred Heart Hospital this week will be used for the installation of a new sprinkler system.

Sister Celeste, superintendent of the hospital operated by the Daughters of Charity, said the contract for the sprinkling system has been let to Grinnell Company of Baltimore and is expected to cost about $18,000.

The Ford Foundation grant will be the last of a total of $66,500 given to the local institution.

Sister Celeste said Sacred Heart Hospital outlined to the Ford Foundation a program of installation of a new sprinkler system in the entire old section of the hospital, covering all floors from the basement to the attic. She stated the sprinkler alarm would not be extended to the newer section of the hospital erected in 1937 because that portion of the building is constructed of fireproof materials.

Also outlined to the Ford Foundation by the 135-bed institution was a plan for the installation of modern X-ray equipment which was to be placed on the fourth floor of the hospital. However, this plan has been abandoned for the moment, Sister Celeste said, because the equipment was much too large and heavy, and could not be erected in the hospital without danger of collapse of the floors.

Faced with the need of reconstructing the hospital to facilitate the use of more modern equipment, the organization has decided to hold the remaining $48,000 in abeyance until plans are made for its use.

NEW YORK — (INS) — Wall Street hears:

Rising sales are being enjoyed by auto parts makers, thanks to the sharp upturn in Chrysler and Ford output . . .

Fears over Far East developments hiking crude rubber prices at Singapore and London . . . Coffee price also firming up . . .

A Reynolds & Co. study emphasizes the fact that Stewart Warner is no longer in the radio and television field, as commonly believed. In addition to its automotive business, STX is a volume producer of aircraft heating systems, lubricating equipment, industrial casters . . .

Rights to Southern Co.'s new stock offering will be on the basis of one new share for each 15 held at $20. Rights expire April 4. Stock is around $22 . . .

Market Comment—H. Henz & Co.:

"At this point a constructive attitude is well justified from the standpoint of longer pull investment."

Teacher's Get Refreshers

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)—The National Science Foundation is financing a unique experiment at Antioch College here in an effort to solve the scientist shortage.

Working on the theory that well-taught high school science courses help attract bright students, the foundation is sponsoring a night school for high school science teachers.

If successful, the foundation hopes colleges and universities throughout the country will adopt the plan.

Designed to give instructors advanced knowledge in chemistry, physics, mathematics and the earth sciences, the once-a-week classes also stress teaching methods and demonstrations that can be duplicated in the average high school laboratory.

Tuition is free and the foundation pays each teacher-student $5 a class night to cover his books and transportation.

Now It's 'Drive-In' Air Conditioning

LAS VEGAS — (INS) — It's the 1957 drive-in customer speaking: "Bring us a basket of burgers, couple jugs of coffee and a little air conditioning, please."

The carhop doesn't bat an eye. She writes down the order and while you're waiting she installs an individual car-service air conditioner in your car.

This latest bid for the rolling trade is featured at the Blue Union, a Las Vegas drive-in and restaurant operated by Billy Brandt.

Academy Award Sweepstakes On At Strand

A $500 cash grand prize is being offered by the Schinn Circuit to a winner selected from among the circuit's local first prize winners in the annual Academy Award Sweepstakes now in progress.

In addition to being eligible for the cash grand prize, Cumberland's first prize winner will receive a free one-week accommodation for an entire family at Ellinger Village, Fla. The private villa will accommodate a limit of six persons, children under two years not counted.

Free entry blanks available in the lobby of the Strand contain 12 categories of Academy Award nominations and contestants are to guess the winners to be chosen by the Academy in Hollywood on March 27. The contest also includes a question that must be answered in 25 words which will be used to break possible ties.

Contestants may submit any number of entries but will be eligible for only one prize. All entries must be deposited in the lobby of the Strand before 10 p. m. March 26, the night before the Academy Awards are announced in Hollywood.

Longer Life In London

LONDON — (INS) — Londoners are living longer.

Everybody in Britain's capital complains about the weather, noise, diesel fumes, smog and what have you but a review of mortality in the county of London shows that women of 65 now have an expectation of life 15 years compared with 11 years at the turn of the century. For men of 65 the expectation is 12 years compared with 10 in 1900.

One of the hands that contributed to this fine young player's victory is shown today. He was on lead against the four-heart contract and while many players would have opened the tempting club suit, Edgar decided in favor of a trump lead. He reasoned that since hearts had been the only suit bid there was no hurry about establishing a club trick and that declarer might need a cross ruff to collect 10 tricks.

In spite of the opening trump lead South went after the cross ruff. It was his only chance. He won the first trick, played the ace of clubs, ruffed a club, played dummy's ace of diamonds, ruffed a diamond, ruffed the last club and led a spade. West won the trick and led a fourth club. South had to ruff and was down to two trumps, the same as West. South

Picture In Old Camera Identified By Reader

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — James McAlea, a counterman, bought an old camera in an antique shop for the sake of its lens and found inside it an undeveloped photographic plate.

McAlea sent the photograph, a group picture, to the Newark News, which printed it and asked if any of its readers could identify it.

One of them did. Everett W. Bird of South Orange, the village's building inspector, said the picture was of his aunt and uncle, his grandparents and a cousin.

STRANGE MURDER LISTED IN INDIA
NEW DELHI (AP)—Because girls require dowries, many Indian parents dread the birth of a daughter.

In a village near Kanpur in North Central India, the arrival of a second daughter brought discord into the lives of a young couple.

The new baby disappeared four months after it was born. Later police found the girl's body in a well and arrested the mother on murder charges.

Sentencing the mother to life imprisonment, a two-justice panel of the Allahabad high court observed: "We are convinced... the baby was dropped... in the well to escape the wrath of her husband" for having given birth to a second daughter.
